Front-end Developer

I am a motivated and passionate developer with a strong focus on Front-end development. Over the past two years, I have self-studied Front-End development, specializing in React.js, and have gained extensive knowledge of it's features and libraries. I am committed to continuous learning and am driven by a desire to enhance my skills in a professional environment. I am actively seeking opportunities to collaborate with innovative companies where I can contribute to impactful projects and grow within the industry.
